

The residual is centred, but its spread grows 5× with system size

