

What the target is made of — and why it is a geometry problem

